

Semi-Finalist Certificate

awarded to

Robert Fahey

for the song

I've Got Love If You Want It

This is to certify that "I've Got Love If You Want It" was a Semi-Finalist in the Adult Contemporary category in the UK Songwriting Contest 2009. This song was carefully examined by expert music industry judges and they have awarded Robert Fahey this certificate for participating in the contest in 2009 and for contributing to its continued success as a leading international annual songwriting event.

The UK Songwriting Contest is held annually in association with The BRIT Trust, The Guild of International Songwriters and Composers, The Song Copyright Organization (SCO) The World Music Foundation, Music Aid International and other music industry bodies.